Environmental Management in the Industries is becoming increasingly important as the statutory authorities are becoming more vigilant and compliance demanding day by day. Public pressure on industry is unprecedented due to better understanding of environmental pollution by public, thanks to IT revolution and Right to Information practices. Today the compliance to regulations is not by choice but it is by compulsion.

General impression by many corporates is that the compliance costs are a drain on their profits. This is a myth as the world leaders in profitability are also the leaders in environment protection. Majority of them have realised that cleaner environment and conservation of resources have led to not only bottom line improvements but also in community and other stakeholder support. Organisations are increasingly realising that Environment Protection and environmental compliance is a business case.

Recycling and Environment Industry Association of India (REIAI) has conducted several training programs in “Self Regulation and Compliance Monitoring” in the premises of leading companies like, Hindustan Zinc Limited, Sesa Goa Steel plant, JSW Mines, Vedanta limited , Rungta Mines and Bokaro Steel plant.

In order to take the benefits of the training module developed by REIAI to larger group of corporates (large and medium), we intend to conduct an online Web based training program on “Self Regulation and Compliance Monitoring” for two and half hours on Saturday,15th April, 2023.from 10.30 AM to 1 PM.
